~~ABANDONED~~ CEMETERIES

OF

JERSEY COUNTY, ILLINOIS

Compiled By

Elaine L. Witt

This book has several other cemetery readings for Jersey County Illinois, including Veterans Records, etc.

These cemeteries are on approximately 90% deeded land discovered by searching the plat maps of 1873, 1893, 1915 and 1969. There are a small percentage which have been called to our attention as being on certain lands.

We have tried to give names to those possible, and suggested names for others, derived from naming the first family to have a cemetery mark on their land. Normally, they buried their loved ones there, and opened it up for their neighbors to share.

We have undoubtedly made errors, or have differences from local or popular opinion. We would appreciate many persons carefully considering these matters, making any corrections or suggestions, and mailing them to us.

Send to: Mrs. Florence Hutchison, Chairman Cemetery Records Preservation, 629 South Diamond, Jacksonville ILL 62650, or send to: Mrs. Mabel Sheffer, Cemetery Records Committee R.1 Box 246, Carrollton ILL 62016

Traces of some of these cemeteries may be difficult to find. However, evergreen trees, or wild rose bushes in a vicinity are good evidence. Many cemeteries have been destroyed when roads were relocated or widened. Different plat maps locate the cemetery at differing spots on the section of land. We do not know all facts from these "paper surveys". We need help from the landowners and relatives of people buried in the area.

The land descriptions, as to the fractional part of a quarter in a section of land may be incorrect, because we have determined these by looking at the maps, and making a judgment as to the cemetery's approximate location. Please feel free to make corrections here also, as we want accurate descriptions. We may have some of the owners' names incorrect. We used a 1969 Greene County Plat Map. We would like to have the current names of owners.

For those active cemeteries under a trusteeship or incorporation, we would appreciate having the names of the secretary, treasurer, or president, with addresses. When we finally publish a correct list, perhaps we will have readers who would like to make donations for their cemetery's upkeep.

We would like to receive these letters of correction or comment with the next few weeks. Won't you take time, now, to write us?

INTRODUCTION AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The founding fathers of Jersey County, Illinois, who have rested peacefully in their abandoned graves for over one hundred years, will again be remembered, if only for the short time it takes to scan this book.

This search was started more than two years ago. Thanks to the friends who loaned old Atlases and history books; to the farmers who remembered a grave or two in the "back forty"; to the hunters who stumbled across a family graveyard in their travels; and to Lila Blackorby, Jersey County Recorder, and to Linda Crotchett, Jersey County Clerk, for all their help with the old records. It has taken many hours of research, "blood and sweat" to be able to publish this book. By "blood" I mean all the briars, brambles, barb-wire fences, etc., to get to the abandoned burial grounds "out behind the old homestead". By "sweat", for having to be on a constant lookout for rattlers and copperheads in the Jersey County bluff area.

Without much help from all concerned, this book could never have been written. Thanks to all who have made it possible.

* IMPORTANT NOTICE: This veterans index is not strictly alphabetical. We had some problems. The first photocopy was not too good, which left some names hard for the indexer to read. And one page was left out! Your editor had to block out all sixteen columns and re-number them. The names left out of original cards will follow this notation.

* We spelled all names as they were recorded on the Jersey County Honor Roll.

INDEX: CEMETERIES IN JERSEY COUNTY, ILLINOIS

These are cemeteries listed in the 1956 "Honor Roll of Jersey County", with names of veterans buried in each up to 1956. The Illinois Veterans Commission has never published the names and burial places of veterans after 1956.

A copy of the Honor Roll books in all Illinois counties is at the Illinois State Archives, Springfield IL 62756. All death dates included in all 21 pages of the Jersey County Honor Roll are given in the index of soldiers in this quarterly. Other information available is as shown in example. In some cases the unit or organization is not shown.
